As Policy Advisor, Legislative Affairs, for the Air Force Sergeants Association (AFSA), Jon is responsible for the management and execution of the Association’s government affairs program and legislative platform.

Serving as a non-partisan liaison between AFSA and mission-partners, including industry stakeholders and officials of the U.S. government and their staffs, Jon cultivates relationships to ensure desired advocacy outcomes.

Keeping his finger on the pulse of the Total Force community, Jon maintains open lines of communication with the 75,000+ AFSA members worldwide.

Voted on annually by its members, AFSA’s legislative platform serves as a blueprint for testimony and lobbying efforts, in conjunction with responses dictated by day-to-day events. AFSA’s priorities are specifically focused on quality-of-life issues that affect all service members and their families.

AFSA is a federally-chartered Veterans’ Service Organization representing the professional and personal interests of service members past and present and their families. AFSA is one of the few military associations able to lobby and provide face-to-face representation with our nation’s congressional and military leaders on Capitol Hill and within the Departments of Defense and Veterans Affairs.

Jon graduated from the University of Delaware with a Bachelor’s Degree in Political Science. He is also a graduate of the Georgetown University Government Affairs Institute and holds a certificate in Full Stack Software Development from Tech Impact.

Recent legislative achievements secured by AFSA include:

- Expansion of Exceptional Family Member Program
- Secured Burn Pit Victim Care via PACT Act
- Expansion of 24-hour childcare at CDCs
